

St. John's College is a co-educational, four-year liberal arts college with campuses in Annapolis, Md., and Santa Fe, N.M., known for its distinctive "great books" curriculum. The college has no religious affiliation. It dates from 1696, making it the third oldest college in the country.

For more information on St. John's College and its students and graduates, please contact
Jaime Dunn,
Director of Career Services, Annapolis
at 410-626-2500 or jaime.dunn@sjca.edu.

Margaret Odell,
Director of Career Services, Santa Fe at 505-984-6066 or modell@sjcsf.edu.

www.stjohnscollege.edu

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE STUDENTS

Equipped to Excel in Today's World

THE ST. JOHN'S PROGRAM

---

At St. John's, students pursue a rigorous, all-required four-year curriculum based on the study and discussion of the most important works of Western civilization.

The multidisciplinary program includes mathematics, science, philosophy, languages, literature, history, music, political science, theology, economics, and psychology.

All classes are small discussion-based seminars, which require students to use critical analysis and cooperative inquiry to make meaningful contributions every day.

In addition to daily class work, students also refine their ability to think, write, and speak across all disciplines by writing substantial annual essays and defending them in oral examinations.

REASONS TO HIRE A ST. JOHN'S STUDENT

---

Through their studies, St. John's students acquire powerful analytical, communication, and problem-solving abilities that enable them to continue learning, questioning, challenging, and adapting throughout their lives, giving them the foundation needed to excel in many different professions.

St. John's students spend four years critically reading literary, philosophic, and scientific texts, identifying and analyzing key elements, describing their analyses, and defending and improving them in small group discussions.

St. John's students are expected to constantly look beyond facts to understand their significance and relevance.

THE ST. JOHN'S DEGREE

---

St. John's students graduate with a Bachelor of Arts in Liberal Arts.

Before graduation, many students participate in internships, ranging from medical and scientific research, to teaching, to law, business, government, and fine arts.

At some point after graduating, nearly 70% of St. John's graduates pursue advanced degrees. The most common include Law, Philosophy, Medicine, Psychology, Physics, Mathematics, Business, and Teaching.

A degree from St. John's equips students to succeed in any occupation.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE

ANNAPOLIS • SANTA FE

P.O. Box 2800

ANNAPOLIS, MARYLAND 21404

ST. JOHN'S STUDENTS acquire powerful analytical, communication, and problem-solving skills.

ST. JOHN'S COLLEGE

ANNAPOLIS • SANTA FE