HOW TO OBTAIN YOUR F-1 VISA

As an international student, you have a few extra steps to take in order to attend St. John’s College. We’re here to help.

Step 1: Submit your tuition deposit and the International Student Certification of Finances Form.

Once you have made the decision to attend St. John’s, you need to submit your $500 non-refundable tuition deposit, a copy of the photo page of your passport, and the International Student Certification of Finances Form for the full cost of attendance for the 2021-2022 first year of expenses.

On page 2, you will find budget worksheets. Complete the budget worksheet for your campus to understand the assets you need to show the college and the US Embassy.

If you plan to apply for Financial Aid, your International Student Certification of Finances must show that you are able to cover any expenses not covered by your aid.

Students with dependents (i.e. spouse, children) should contact the Admissions Office for further details regarding bringing dependents to the United States in F status.

While current F-1 visa holders may not need to renew their visa, you do need to contact your current school, have the SEVIS record transferred to St. John’s College, and have your current DSO fill out the I-20 Transfer Form and submit it to St. John’s.

Step 2: Fill out the required forms.

After you have submitted your enrollment deposit and the other required documents listed above, the college will send you an I-20 form either by expedited carrier (i.e., FedEx, DHL) or by email. Sign it, complete the online nonimmigrant visa application (in many countries this is Form DS-160), and pay the SEVIS I-901 fee. The website to pay the fee is https://www.fmjfee.com/i901fee/index.html#. The process for applying for a visa can vary by country. Additional information regarding these forms, fees, and the general visa process can be found on the U.S. State Department’s website at https://travel.state.gov/content/travel/en/us-visas/study/student-visa.html#overview.

Step 3: Schedule your interview.

It is recommended that visa applicants interview at the U.S. Embassy or Consulate in the country where they live. Wait times at interview locations can vary, so it is best to apply for your visa as early as possible, but not more than 120 days before the start of classes. (Canadian citizens do not need to schedule an interview.)

You will need to pay the non-immigrant visa application fee prior to your interview with U.S. State Department personnel. Keep your receipt or online confirmation for this fee and for the SEVIS I-901 fee because you will need them. You will also need the confirmation page for your non-immigrant visa application, your complete I-20 form, and a passport valid for travel which shows a minimum six month valid expiry date beyond the contemplated period of stay. It is in your best interest to have an additional copy of all relevant forms, receipts, and documents just in case there is an issue at any point in this process.

Step 4: If required, pay the visa issuance fee.

When your visa is approved, you may be required to pay a visa issuance fee dependent upon your nationality. This information can also be found on the website referenced above. Note that a transit visa may be required.

We strongly recommend that you wait to finalize your travel plans until after your visa has been issued. Since the timing can be unpredictable, we encourage you to begin this process as early as possible. Once you receive your visa, you may enter the United States 30 days before the start of classes, but are responsible for your own housing until your campus housing becomes available in late August. Campus specific move-in dates will be posted online with detailed instructions emailed to all students.
